If you're flying a drone – you're a pilot and as a pilot you must follow aviation rules.

First, check your drone's properly set up and safe to fly.

Then, choose somewhere drones are allowed.

It's safer to fly in open spaces – especially if you're just learning

Always stay well clear of people, animals, buildings or vehicles.

Also don't fly directly over people, unless they say it's OK.

Keep your drone within sight – fly in daylight, keep it close and below 120 metres.

And if you do see another aircraft – get out of the way and land immediately.

Be responsible be safe when flying your drone.

That's how you fly the right way.
